It is a roleplaying game with a small amount of PvP (player vs. player) and Team Deathmatch, where different classes of heroes or players can team up with other players, team mates, for a common objective to defeat monsters in dangerous dungeons or fields. Also the game is very easy to learn, very easy to control, it is so easy that it's so easy that I might be the only one to not give up and never play it again in my life. After a normal quest, we are now in a dungeon, every dungeon offers 2-3 boss fights, which are harder than normal fights, and maybe after you beat them, they offer a reward, usually money, new weapons, new armor, some kind of legendary armor, etc. Every dungeon gives 1000 Gold, every objective gives 2000 gold, and every boss fight gives 5000 gold. A dungeon is always unlocked when you finish the first quest, and whenever you are done with a dungeon, you gain access to any other dungeon you want, so for example you can easily farm cash or legendary armor. When you have a good amount of cash, you can trade it to a merchant who will sell you any item that you want, and is usually near the dungeon, so you can easily buy the gear you want. There are three different classes in the game, the beast, the knight, and the warrior. The beast is

Currency in Egypt The Egyptian pound (EGYP) is the currency in Egypt. It is pegged to the British pound. The flag of Egypt was originally a vertical bicolour of two equal horizontal green and white stripes. The green stripe represented Islam, and the white stripe represented the Christians. It was replaced with a white, black and red tricolour in 1957. The ratio between the Egyptian pound and the British pound is 1:1.58. Ten Egyptian pounds is equal to 16 British pounds. History In 1800, the Egyptian pound was equal in purchasing power to the pound sterling. The pound sterling was divided into 20 shillings, each of which was equal to one Egyptian pound. Egypt's current currency was introduced by the English in 1868. When the pound sterling was decimalised on 15 January 1971, the Egyptian pound was decimalised along with the British pound. Coins During the colonial period (1882 to 1952), Egyptian pounds were issued in denominations of 1, 2 1/2, 5, 10 and 20 kyat. After independence (1952) the design was changed
