The choruses of 'The Collectors's Message' and the song's melody are reminiscent of the melodies of 'Forbidden Colors' and 'Designer' of the original game; their melodies and qualities are refreshing and fit in with the soundtrack. Finally, a faster and more powerful beat complements the previous theme, and the melody of the 'All-out Attack' and 'Guardian of Our Faith' themes are left with the game's atmosphere. Zenith into Maronarium: Sismu no Shima no Uta The song "Sismu no Shima no Uta" for Zenith into Maronarium, known internationally as "Maronarium Song", was taken from Masashi Takimoto's popular soundtrack for the original game, and was written by Takimoto and Shinji Hosoe. "Maronarium Song" is the theme song that is used to introduce the game, with brilliant and beautiful artwork as well as lyrics,
